

Welcome to Apex, Thibaut.

A one-stop landing for working together as a referral partner.

Thibaut — thank you for the energy you've already shown for this work. This note is a one-stop landing for everything you need to start moving on warm intros. Three artifacts attached, plus the operating rhythm below.

THE THREE DOCUMENTS

1. Referral Partner Agreement (Apex-Referral-Agreement-Perney.pdf). The contractual side. 15 percent of Year-1 contract value on any deal you source, 5 percent on renewals in Years 2 and 3, 12-month attribution window. Standard exclusions: Founding 10 promo pricing, self-serve trials, pre-existing pipeline, and Prospects another partner has already documented. Fill in the address / email / date fields and sign; I countersign and we are live.
2. Manifold for AON — Pitch Deck (Manifold-for-AON-Deck.pdf). A worked example of how the platform pitches into one specific account. Use this as the template for what a Manifold pitch looks like, not a script. The deck is insurance-and-reinsurance-tuned; equivalent decks for other segments are coming.
3. ICP Playbook (Apex-ICP-Playbook.pdf). The customer-profile playbook: three priority segments, who buys at each, what questions qualify a real lead, and which accounts I would most like to land. Read this before you put anyone on a call.

HOW ATTRIBUTION WORKS IN PRACTICE

Before you make any introduction:

1. Send the prospect's name and firm to Brynna (brynna@apexanalytica.co). One line is enough: "Considering reaching out to [Name] at [Firm] re: Manifold."
2. Brynna confirms within 24 hours whether the prospect is already on our pipeline. If yes, attribution does not attach and we tell you so you can re-direct. If no, the prospect is logged as yours for a 12-month attribution window starting from your documented introduction.
3. Make the introduction. CC Brynna or me on the intro email so we have the documented timestamp.
4. From there, I handle the sales conversation, the configuration, the technical demo, the proposal, and the close. You stay in the loop and join calls where useful, but the front-line work is mine unless we agree otherwise.

This protects you from spending effort on a prospect we are already working, and it protects me from disputed attribution. Two minutes of Slack-and-confirm before every intro.

WHAT TO DO IN THE FIRST 30 DAYS

1. Read the ICP playbook. Get specific about which of the three priority segments overlaps with your network.
2. List your 10 strongest contacts across those segments. Not 50. Not 100. The 10 where you would actually pick up the phone and call.
3. Send me the list. Indicates relationship strength (1 = barely know them, 5 = coffee tomorrow), current title, and one sentence on why they would care about a Manifold conversation.
4. We sort the list together. I tell you which one or two to pitch first, what version of the deck or 1-pager to send with the intro, and what specifically to emphasise based on what I know about that buyer profile.
5. You make the first one or two intros. We see what comes back. We tune from there.

I would rather have you make 2 high-quality intros in the first month than 20 generic ones. The 12-month attribution window means a single strong intro that closes in month 6 is worth more than a year of cold outreach.

CADENCE

- Weekly check-in. 30 minutes, Friday. Run through the pipeline, decide next moves, unblock anything stuck. Brynna sets the recurring slot once the agreement is signed.
- Async between calls. Telegram for fast back-and-forth, email for anything that needs to be on the record.
- Quarterly commission true-up. Brynna sends a statement showing every Qualifying Deal you sourced, revenue collected in the period, and the commission paid. First true-up at the end of the calendar quarter in which any deal closes.

MATERIALS TO EXPECT

These ship in the next two to three weeks and you will get them as they land:

- Insurance-and-reinsurance 1-pager (sendable independently of the AON deck, for when an intro is to a smaller firm in that segment).
- Counterparty risk 1-pager for the bank-side ICP.
- Macro / hedge-fund 1-pager for the fund-side ICP.
- Demo video (Loom) you can send to a prospect without scheduling a live call.
- Talking-points / objection-handling crib sheet for when you are on a discovery call yourself.

If you find yourself needing any of those mid-conversation before they ship, ping me and I will draft what you need same-day.

WHAT I'M ASKING FROM YOU

- Honesty about the network. If you do not have a real contact in a segment, tell me. We do not pretend.
- Reciprocity. If a competing referral partner introduces a Prospect you were planning to introduce, the cross-partner exclusion in the agreement protects whoever moves first. Move first, but only when the prospect is real.
- Discipline on attribution. Every intro through Brynna first. No exceptions.
- Tell me what you see. You are going to talk to people I have not talked to. If they tell you something about the buyer profile or the use case I should hear, send it over. The ICP playbook evolves based on real feedback.

WHAT YOU CAN ASK FROM ME

- A real product walkthrough, on demand, for any prospect or for you personally.
- Tailored materials when you need them.
- Direct access — Telegram and email, and I respond within a few hours during the working day.
- A founder who actually picks up the phone.

Looking forward to building this with you. The work matters and the relationships matter more. Let's land some good ones.
